

Le « Marché du Film » du 70e Festival de Cannes pour acheter/vendre/échanger dans votre domaine : le cinéma

The Marché du Film - 70th Festival de Cannes is fast approaching

Check out what's new at the Marché this year!

- The future of cinema is at NEXT! NEXT will take place this year in the Palais (Wednesday May 17 – Sunday May 21) with a special focus on Virtual Reality. NEXT will feature an all new walk-in VR Library offering the Marché participants the possibility to watch VR films on various devices such as Samsung Gear VR, Oculus Rift and HTC Vive.
- After such a good reception last year, the Marché badge will once again give you access to re-run screenings of the Festival's Official Selection. View these films before they hit the mass market and look out for an announcement of the Official Selection in due time.
- Frontières – for the first time, the Marché du Film – Festival de Cannes and the Fantasia International Film Festival co-present the Frontières Platform in Cannes. During 2 days (Saturday May 20 and Sunday May 21), several events will bring together key players of the genre film industry. The program includes a Proof of Concept Presentation and screenings of Works-in-Progress at Goes to Cannes. A fantastic fanatic mixer cocktail will close out this special two day program.
- Doc Day is back and better than ever on Tuesday May 23. More information about the program coming soon.
- Goes to Cannes comes to the 2017 Marché du Film with a whole new selection of Works-in-Progress from all over the world. This year's presenters include the Annecy International Animation Festival, Dubai International Film Festival, Frontières, Guadalajara International Film Festival, Hong Kong International Film Festival, Los Cabos International Film Festival, Vilnius' Kino Pavasaris, New Horizon' Polish Days, and Doc Goes to Cannes.
