FEATURING THE LECTURE

MEDIEVAL TRADITIONS OF COMMEMORATION
by Dr. Helen C. Evans

Mary and Michael Ibbate Curator for Byzantine Art, Metropolitan Museum of Art

In the wake of the successful exhibit Amos! Dr. Helen C. Evans, Mary and Michael Ibbate Curator for Byzantine Art of The Metropolitan Museum of Art will speak at Tufts on the Armenian belief in the power of memory using works recently on display in the Armenian exhibition at the Met. Medieval monuments often served as a visual tradition of memory, through depictions of language and imagery on church facades, religious contexts, textiles, and icons. Commemorative art has preserved memory, cultural tradition, and identity for the Armenian diaspora across time, locations, and displacement.

Dr. Helen C. Evans was the curator of the acclaimed exhibit Amos! at the Met. Previously she co-edited the Armenian Legacy: A History of the Armenian Diaspora (Metropolitan Museum of Art Press, 2007). In 2007, she co-edited the exhibition, The Golden Age of Byzantine Art, 1261-1453 (Metropolitan Museum of Art, 2007). Life and Power 726-1527 in 2004, and Byzantium and Islam: Age of Transition 1025-1325 in 2012. His Honorary Doctorate, C. Carabian of the Armenian diaspora for his "Order of Saint Sarkis-Saint Menapir" in the spring of the 2010s. Amos! and Amos! at the Met were the first Armenian art exhibitions at the Met. His Honorary Doctorate and Queen Elizabeth awards were most recently with the "Circle of Amos" for Amos!.

Reception immediately following the commemoration in the Coolidge Room, Follen Hall. Parking is available in the Dowling Garage at 419 Boston Avenue and in designated on-street areas.

Commémoration du Génocide des Arméniens perpétré par le gouvernement "Jeune Turc" avec l'aide de l'"Organisation Spéciale" (Teşkilât-ı Mahsusa en turc)

"The "special organization" might have been established by Enver , who placed Süleyman Askeri in charge of the organization on 17 November 1913.^{[3][4]} Its establishment date is rather vague since it was really a continuation of various smaller groups established by Enver and friends in the aftermath of 1908 Young Turk Revolution^[5].

Enver assumed the primary role in the direction of the Special Organization and its center of administration moved to Erzurum.^[6] Many members of this organization who had played particular roles in the first world war also participated in the Turkish national movement.^[7] The Special Organization assisted by government and army officials, deported all Greek men of military age to labor brigades beginning in summer 1914 and lasting through 1916.^[7]

The first leader was Süleyman Askeri Bey. After his death, he was replaced by Ali Bach Hamba on 14 April 1915. The "Special Organization" was used by Talaat, Enver and Jemal to complete the Armenian Genocide , beginning 24 April 1915 .Ali Bach Maba held the post until the Armistice of Mudros.^[4] During World War I Eşref Sencer Kuşçubası was allegedly the director of operations in Arabia, the Sinai, and North Africa^[9]. He was captured at Yemen in early 1917 by the British military and was a POW in Malta until 1920 and subsequently released in exchange for British POW.^[4] Ahmet Efe says military archives have detailed information about the organization's personnel. He says Kuşçubası is not mentioned . source wikipedia.^{[4] sou}
