The AYF is hosting its annual Olympic Games in Providence, RI this year and will be releasing an advertisement booklet that will serve as the critical financial backbone for the organization. From the mission, programs, and huge slate of activities of the AYF for the coming year, the adbook is a crucial component in ensuring this programming is well funded and financially viable.

Furthermore, this year, the CE will also be providing each AYF chapter a little appreciation for all the work they have done: each chapter will be entitled to 10% of all the funds associated with advertisement purchases from members of their community! Please ensure that when you fill out the form, you select your chapter to ensure the most accurate count.

Providing your ad only takes a few minutes, and the AYF Central Executive and Central Webteam Council are happy to provide any help and support you may need. On our ad page, simply choose an ad size, provide the desired text verbiage and/or camera-ready art, complete the order form and payment process, and then sit back and relax! Thousands of ad-books will be sent throughout the region and country to our entire community. Don’t forget to select the chapter/community you are from!
