AGBU

Resilience and recovery two years after the start of the 2020 Artsakh War

Today, we are reminded of the full-scale attack on that fateful September morning that changed the lives of the people of Artsakh forever. Many of these innocent victims were women, left to pick up the pieces of their broken lives. AGBU honors those who paid the ultimate price to defend their ancestral lands and shares a few inspiring stories of Artsakh Strong women featured in our upcoming issue of AGBU Magazine.
