

ANCA côte ouest : bilan & perspectives

With all you're juggling this Christmas and New Year's, we wanted to make sure you saw two things we recently shared, and to ask you to take action on a third:

1) 2018 Review: People, Power, and Progress is a quick video look back at 12 months of work strengthening the U.S.-Armenia relationship, defending Artsakh's freedom, and advancing the cause of justice for the Armenian Genocide — all while investing in our community's most precious resource — our youth — through innovative career services and internship programs.

2) 2019 Preview: Our latest op/ed — Armenia and America: Faith, Freedom, and Friendship - lays out our post Velvet Revolution blueprint for upgrading U.S.-Armenia relations through concrete political, economic, and diplomatic deliverables.

3) Your Participation: After checking out these two, please join with friends and family and donate now to the ANCA.

We've got a year full of challenges and opportunities ahead. Your contribution now - small or large - will make a big difference.
