

L'Association Internationale des Femmes Arméniennes tiendra sa conférence globale à Dzaghgadzor, en Arménie

✘ AIWA announced its Armenian women's global conference, "AIWA 2020 Connect" in Tsaghkadzor, Armenia from June 19 - 22, 2020. Hundreds of Armenian women from around the world will convene to engage in new conversations and interactions which will empower them to bring positive change to their own lives and in their respective communities.

"It's been too long that Armenian women have lacked solidarity across barriers and differences — we are ready for a new conversation and a fresh narrative. Our ability to recognize our individual power to create a more open and inclusive global community is what will lead to real and positive change," states Rachel Onanian Nadjarian, AIWA's Executive Director. "We intend to create a different environment for women at our conference this year — a new platform for the ways in which women can connect, interact and collaborate.

Armenian women from anywhere in the world, aged 21 and above, are encouraged to register for AIWA 2020 Connect by the Early Bird deadline of March 1, 2020. AIWA member rate is $595 and non-member rate is $645 and includes the 3-nights hotel stay, all meals, transportation, and all activities/excursions.

To ensure diversity and inclusiveness, under-resourced women residing in Armenia are being offered a subsidized rate of $150 and numerous women from the reg....
