Abstract: Scenario planning is a strategic management tool that enables identification of potential future scenarios and develop strategies to mitigate risks and exploit opportunities. Strategic defense is a concept that involves using military or diplomatic means to protect the national security interests of a country. Scenario planning allows defense planners to consider a wide range of possible future scenarios and develop appropriate responses, contingency plans and allocate resources more effectively.

In the aftermath of the 44-day war, the AGBU Armenian Virtual College (AVC) created a dedicated course on Scenario-based Strategic Planning authored by world renown experts and provided it on its e-learning platform, with the intent of disseminating strategic planning practices among decision makers in the homeland and diaspora.

The Panel will showcase this e-learning course and demonstrate the relationship between scenario planning and strategic defense addressing the geopolitical challenges and opportunities facing Armenia over the rest of this decade. The panel will comprise of the AVC course authors and its subject matter experts, who will offer their views on issues critical for Armenia to consider, in formulating long-term strategies to promote interests, enhance readiness and preparedness and to safeguard the security of the nation.

The discussion will be based on the outcome of the AVC course on strategic planning, which was followed by a simulation exercise on the future potential security conditions for Armenia.

The course content and simulation are available at www.avc-agbu.org.
