ARPA Institute Panel Discussion
"FemInno: biggest female conference in Armenia and the region"

Panélistes: Seda Papoyan, Nare Dovlatyan, Meri Grigoryan and Haikouhi Oroudjian.
Moderator: Ani Shabazian

Saturday, May 13, 2023 @ 11:00 am, PDT

Abstract. Of paramount importance and critical is an intentional and systematic approach to developing women leaders in Armenia. The government should create policies or processes aimed at supporting women, organizing diversity or gender-specific training, leadership development programs, mentoring, coaching, connecting with other women leaders, as well as attending conferences, joining professional organizations, and participating in online forums. Moreover, it is necessary to promote a supportive culture in recognition that women are burdened with more caregiving responsibilities than men. Especially crucial is to recognize and overcome bias which limits opportunities and advancement. Presented will be facts about the first and the biggest female innovation conference in Armenia and in the whole region – FemInno, the main actors in the initiative, as well as the primary objective of the conference. Discussions will also include the number of ways to get engaged and take an active role in FemInno in diving change for female talent and leadership in Armenia.

Seda Papoyan is the founder of FemInno and the Managing Director at Girls in Tech of Armenia. She is an experienced leader, passionate about technology, innovation, and women empowerment, with demonstrated positive results in diverse industries, including journalism, education, international affairs, and technology. Seda has skills in Technology Education, Strategic Communications, Innovation, Startups and Media Relations.

Nare Dovlatyan is the Co-organizer of FemInno and is the Operations manager of Girls in Tech Armenia. Nare is also the Co-Founder at Moot, with demonstrated experience in operations and project management. She is committed to promoting diversity in and passionate about high technology.

Meri Grigoryan has a bachelor's degree in computer science and data science. In TUMO Labs, training on Machine Learning and internship in the Armenian Bioinformatics Institute. Meri is a student at Jacobs University Bremen, Google DSC Tech Lead at Jacobs University, FemInno Ambassador. She is one of the scholarship awardees of Sonja Mnatsakanyan Female Talent Scholarship Fund.

Haikouhi Oroudjian is the Co-founder and COO of Oqni and the CIO at Safe YOU. Haikouhi is also a winning team member of the female-founded startup competition organized by FemInno. She was born in Armenia but raised in the USA and France. Oroudjian worked as a Clinical and Forensic Psychologist and then specialized in Artificial Intelligence consulting with Microsoft. She moved to Armenia after the war to help rebuild the country through sustainable solutions. Her main objective is to help empower amputees to live fulfilled lives.
